THREE MILLIONS MAJORITY FOR G. O. P. IN NOVEMBER FORECAST AS NATIONAL CONVENTION OPENS

Coliseum Crowded to Doors as Chairman Hays Calls Delegates to Order.

IS GIVEN GREAT OVATION

Sounds of Applause Followed by Ringing Cheers and Singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Similar Reception Is Accorded Senator Lodge.

By Associated Press.

COLISEUM, June 8.—The Republican national convention was called to order at 11:31 o'clock. Soon after Chairman Hays appeared on the platform and was greeted with rounds of applause. Chairman Hays' brought down the gavel with a whistle and the convention promptly came to order.
Bishop Charles E. Woodcock of Louisville, Ky., offered the opening prayer.
The prayer was long and at its conclusion the audience broke into "The Star Spangled Banner."

The swelling chorus filled the great hall and a sea of American flags was waved throughout the singing.
"Now," shouted a cheer leader,
"three cheers for the greatest country
on earth—the United States of America."

Three rolling cheers rocked the hall.
The official photograph of the convention was then taken.

Secretary Miller of the National Committee read the call for the convention.

The convention was not much interested in the call, most of the delegates knowing its terms. They embraced the opportunity for conference and a steady hum pervaded the hall.

Chairman Hays rapped for order so hard he lifted over a glass of water on the table and then stepped to the edge of the platform. He got a renewed demonstration of applause,
shouts and cheers which he acknowledged with smiles and bows. Somebody yelled, "Three cheers for Will Hays," and they were given.

"The Republican party has met in this free and open convention," said Hays, "to accept from the people a mandate for the government of the United States. As chairman of your national committee I report progress.
By next November the majority of the Republican party should be at least three millions. In spirit I report more than progress. I report fulfillment. The greatest party in the union has become a union. It shall continue so. There will be no bolt in this convention."

Roars of cheers greeted this statement.

Chairman Hays then introduced Senator Lodge as the temporary chairman and the convention cheered some-more and a rolling chorus of ayes affirmed the selection. (Chauncey H.
Depew of New York, Myron T. Har-rick of Ohio and Mrs. J. B. Hume of California were appointed) to conduct him to the platform.

Another wave of cheers greeted the Senator as he appeared. A cheer leader was on the job asking for three cheers for Lodge and they were given.
It was one minute after the Senator began delivering his address, after having been introduced by Mr. Hays as "Honorable Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States."

On every hand there were evidences of the newer generation in politics.
They included sons of Theodore Rosevelt, Leonard Wood, the late Senator
Aldrich and a grandson of James G.
Blaine who was wearing the badge
of a sergeant-at-arms.

CROW ON COMMITTEE

Fayette Convention Helps Formulate G.
O. P. Convention Resolutions.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The Pennsylvania caucus Monday was turned into a mass meeting for Governor William C.
Spraul, candidate for president. A motion to appoint a steering committee of 10 to further the candidacy of the Pennsylvania governor was unanimously adopted.

Because of the absence of Senator P. C. Knox, delegate-at-large, recently named a member of the convention resolutions committee, State Senator W. E. Crow was named in his place.

A telegram was sent to Senator Boies Penrose expressing regret that he could not attend the convention.
Senator Penrose was re-elected a member of the national committee.

"Governor Spraul is a candidate for president with the unqualified support of the entire Pennsylvania delegation to the end and without any deals," said Attorney General Schaffer of Pennsylvania in a statement last night.

TIME FOR CRAWFORD AVENUE BIDDING IS EXTENDED TO JUNE 14

Council Desires That There Shall Be
Number of Contractors Figure
on the Improvement.

Because of the limited prospects for bids for the repaving of Crawford avenue council has extended the time for receiving them from June 7 to June 14 at 7 o'clock in the evening.
Bids were to have been opened last evening but when it was found there was only one bidder it was decided none would be received and that the time would be kept open. Notices will in the meantime be sent to a number of large contractors.

At the time South Pittsburg street was paved a dip was formed at Davidson avenue with the result that water stands there until it evaporates.
Council last evening authorized the street department to have a bump to the south of the intersection removed so as to permit drainage into Connellin. The expense will be $400 to $450.
Superintendent B. L. Berg said.

Warrants for $330.20 to meet the cost of engraving short term bonds
for South Seventh street, East Francisco avenue and Front street paving projects was ordered drawn.

Following a petition by a citizen of Connellsville township to tap the city sewer system attention was called to the fee charged for this permit—$40 for entering the system and $20 for a permit.

vise gash across the upper lip and several stitches in a wound in the numerous bruises.

Persons who have been at the scene of the accident say it is remarkable that he escaped alive. Mr. Norton was driving at the time from Connellsville to Baltimore.

CHIEF BOWERS SAYS HE IS NOT INVOLVED IN SALES OF WHISKY

At Fayette Fishing Club; Makes General Denial of the Charge.

NO "BAIT" IN "PACKAGE"

But Fishing Tools, He Declares; Rev.
Buckner Corrects Misquotation;
Case of Mistaken Identity Says Con-
nellman Cyphers, About "Creation."

In a statement to The Courier Chief of Police W. B. Bowers today entered a general denial of the statements involving him in handling liquor, made by or attributed to Rev. George W.
Buckner and pointed out in particular that he was not in an automobile
in front of the Fayette Fishing Club,
as was related. Chief Bowers said:

"I was driven across the river in an automobile which stopped on West Crawford avenue at the corner of Fourth street, a considerable distance from the club rooms. Stopping at that point we were met by George Covill who threw into the automobile, not a 'package' of whisky, but a bundle of fishing implements including a net and a pair of rubber boots. No money was handed to me. There was no reason why any should be given to me. We were merely getting ready to take a little fishing trip."

Chief Bowers further stated that he had called upon the woman who was Rev. Buckner's informant and that she, too, denied the statements made by him.

When the attention of Rev. Buckner was called to these matters this morning he said:

"It is true, as Chief Bowers has said, that he was not in an automobile in front of the fishing club when a man placed a package in the automobile, and that the man handling the package gave him money. In these respects I was slightly misquoted. What I did say was that the chief was in an automobile at the point he described —the corner of Crawford avenue and Fourth street, and that the man who gave him the money after the package had been placed in the car, was the chief's aide."

"With respect to the club, my information was that it was frequented by men who were later observed coming away intoxicated. Some months ago Rev. Proudfit and I having occasion to confer with Chief Bowers on another matter told him that we had been informed that liquor was being illegally furnished on the West Side, and with the knowledge of the police."

"You mean the place on Fourth street," the chief responded. "Yes, we have been so informed," we replied.
This admission on part of the chief convinced us quite conclusively that he had full knowledge of the facts in this case, but had not acted to stop the illegal furnishing of liquor."

Another instance of the chief's lack of performance of his duty was cited by Rev. Buckner who said that some weeks ago Rev. Proudfit notified the chief that a crap shooting was going on at a certain point on the South Side, giving the names of the persons engaged in the games. Instead of making arrests the chief sent a patrolman to notify the players that they had "better cut it out, as Proudfit

CONTEST NARROWS DOWN

To Johnson, Harding, Lowden, Wood, Coolidge, Watson and a Couple of Dark Horses; Optimism Still Prevalts in Camps of All Candidates.

Special to The Courier.

Copyright: National Newspaper Service.
CHICAGO, June 8.—The great momentous Republican National Convention is on. At the first break of dawn delegates and visitors thronged about the entrances of the vast Coliseum. Ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge, the celebrated, collar-wit, gave the orator
from the Indiana literary belt, is here dramatizing about like a gold-fish, over movement, a picture.

It may be written down as a fact that I walked down Michigan boulevard to the convention hall with a statesman high up in the councils of the Republican party—a man whose sterling integrity and keen insight I have no reason to underestimate—a statesman whose been in the Philippines and France and Mexico, and who has another long trip planned for this summer unless the President holds him in Washington. This brilliant and weathered statesman told me that the presidential held had positively narrowed down considerably overnight and that Nicholas Murray Butler was out of it, leaving only Johnson, Harding, Lowden, Wood, Coolidge, Watson
and possibly a couple of dark horses,
as the real contenders for the coveted nomination.

The morning session lasted only a couple of hours, but close political observers say there's nothing unusual in that. The up-and-down facts that impress one most on the opening day of the historic gathering—not idle speculation, but solid statements based on reality, but solid, stark facts that can't be controverted or distorted, are these:
—The day's gone by when a Congressman can square himself with a package of seeds; a willful worker is soon on a committee.

Optimism in all the various camps is up to the standard; the convention hall decorations are pleasing; the most fantastic; the convention band was good and played liberally; the tuba horn being the biggest ever seen in any convention; the colorful, headgear of the women delegates broke the monotony of the sea of heads that confronted the chairman and newspaper writers; in the convention actually opened its first session at 11 o'clock, Chicago time.

There was an early start today toward the Coliseum, many of the late night stragglers being a bit weary,
with a long siege ahead.

Around the hotels a few harkers offered tickets to the convention at fabulous prices, with few buyers. The crowd was wise, knowing today's session would supply no excitement.

The candidates were up and about early. Campaign managers were upon the job taking stock and hoping to find out if there had been any overnight changes in the lineup. In the rush to get to the Coliseum nobody paid much attention to the morning conferences with candidates and there were evidences that this method of swarming publicity was wearing itself out for some of the leading aspirants sent down word yesterday that there was nothing to say.

Everybody was still up in the air
as to who would win the nomination and from all sides there were volleys of inquiry as when the job might be finished.

DUNBAR MAN SLEEPS ON ROLL OF $500 BUT COMPANION GETS IT

Awakening about 3 o'clock this morning, Primo Del Asta, a Dunbar Italian, found $500 in cash gone from his trousers pocket and with it a fellow boarder, who had been sleeping with him. The name of the suspected thief is given as Paul Capodanno, alias Polo Donato, and the Connellsville police have been asked to watch for
him.

Del Asta says he had the $500 in his trousers when preparing to return.

To make sure it could not be stolen from him, he said, he put the trousers underneath the mattress, and slept over the spot.

Donato, however, successfully removed the money without awakening Del Asta and made his getaway. The owner, on awakening, found the trousers removed from beneath him.
Investigation disclosed they had been stolen, but were left behind.

RUSH TO COLISEUM HOURS BEFORE BIG CONVENTION OPENS

Only a Fraction Can Be Admitted Despite the 10,000
Seats Inside.

FABULOUS PRICES ASKED

For Accommodations But Barkers Find
Few Takers, Wise Ones Knowing Retirement Is Scheduled for Later in the Week; Managers in the Air.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Hours before the doors were opened at the big Coliseum today thousands of persons were waiting and hoping to get in for a look at the unbosomed Republican National convention.

Only a fraction of those who applied could be admitted, despite the Coliseum's capacity of more than 10, 000.

Political activity moved out of the hotel district and into the Coliseum itself with the assembling of the first session. It was the first opportunity for the various managers to meet the delegates all together and instead of buttonholing delegates singly and in groups they went after them in delegations.

Today's proceedings in the hall had little to do with the actual nomination. They were merely a routine but indispensable preliminary to the sessions which are to follow.

True, the preliminaries include the keynote speech by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, temporary chairman, and that is the really big business of the first day. Whether the temporary organization with Senator Lodge as chairman is to be made the permanent one was still undetermined.

The crisp cool weather which kept Chicago chilly all during pre-convention week suddenly disappeared today and the sun came out with a blistering blast and flooded the town with temperature which sent the thermometer bounding upward. Everybody agreed, however, it was better than the constant rainfall which covered the city four years ago.

While last minute arrangements were being made no change in the lineup was discernible and the managers admitted they saw no tangible evidence of which way the wind is going to blow. They were still looking forward to the first ballot, which will come during the middle of the week, to point the way to courses of action.

Four Men in Automobile Make Escape
After Robbery of Hays National at 10:30 Today.

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Three masked men entered the Hays National bank in Hays borough, 10 miles from Pittsburg at 10:30 this morning and after locking Cashier Clayton McClure in a vault robbed the bank and escaped.

McClure was busy in the bank and Mrs. Alice Rossmann, the bookkeeper, was at work nearby when an automobile containing four men stopped in front of the building. Three entered and one ordered McClure and Mrs.
Rossmann to enter the vault. They then gathered up the money on the counter, $5,100, and a quantity of liberty bonds and hastened to their automobile. They drove rapidly away while McClure gave the alarm.

vey be followed in the routing of the Pennsylvania-Valley-Everson road, the

The route by which the road is be-parallel with the West Penn trolley line to Irish run near the Pennsville station. The petitioners seek to have it run along the Mount Pleasant road,

to the Chalfant corner at Pennsville,
and then swing down the hill westward to the turn.

is as stupid as well as unlawful,
are subject now to ample punitive laws. These laws should be enforced.

"Over 600 Americans have been a firm hand at the helm. The time has come to put an end to this Mexican situation, which is a shame to the United States and a disgrace to civilization. If we are to take part in pacifying and helping the world, let us begin here at home in Mexico.

"We have stopped Mr. Wilson's peace treaty and the question goes to the people. In 1916 Mr. Wilson won the city that he had kept us out of war. He now demands the approval

Senate, in the House or in any place

people will now tell us what they

It was on their trail." In a letter to the firemen's ministerial committee give notice "that from this time on we propose to do everything in our power to close any carnival that be granted a license to show in Connelville." Further, the ministers state that "through one of the proprietors of the last carnival we were given a great deal of inside information as to carnivals, how they are booked and why they are protected, who profits by them and to what extent, and so forth." Warning is given that "this information will be used if, and whenever, another attempt is made to hold a carnival in our city."

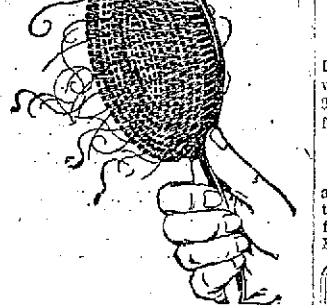

In reply, over the signature of C. P. Rowe, secretary of the New Haven Hose company, the firemen "take particular exception" to the reference as to why carnivals are booked, how protected and why, and request the ministers to give out any information "that will show that members of our organization profit individually."

"I want to deny absolutely that I was in the show known as 'Creation' the night referred to by Rev. Buckner in his sermon Sunday," said Councilman Jesse Cypher to a representative of The Courier following a meeting with the ministerial committee.

Mr. Cypher was referred to as having "almost knocked over" Rev. Buckner and Rev. J. L. Prouditt in his haste to warn the management of the show that the ministers were coming on Tuesday evening. According to the councilman it was a case of mistaken identity. Mr. Cypher said that when the ministers approached he was standing some distance from the tent talking to M. B. Pryce and William J. Herbert. Mr. Pryce corroborated the statement. Mr. Cypher said the only time he was in the show was Monday evening, at which time he accompanied the ministerial committee.

Doing Our Part—

Hooper and Long's Stand Relative to High Shoe Prices

We have placed on sale about $12,000 worth of footwear at reductions of 20 per cent to 25 per cent.

This is in no sense an attempt to lower the cost of living. There can be no permanent relief from high prices until production equals demand; and widespread price cutting to induce the purchase of additional merchandise will, in the face of present shortages, serve to force prices higher in the long run.

BUT

Hooper & Long's Shoe Store is now doing the greatest business it has ever known. In the face of unseasonable weather and the difficulties of obtaining merchandise, it has chalked up almost unbelievable selling records. This has been achieved by carrying great and finely assorted stock of footwear and selling at as small a profit as safety will permit.

It has watched the hectic efforts of merchants, far and near at hand, to stimulate business by the drastic slashing of prices. We, with Connelville's greatest stock of shoes, cannot sit idly by while ill-advised business is rolled up by other houses. We will, each week, take many lines of this season's hosiery and shoes in every department—Men's, Women's, Children's—and sell them to you at honest

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, June 8.—Sunday morning between 3 and 4 o'clock as two young men were returning home they heard a noise and looking into the Kropp jewelry store saw a burglar at work on the safe that stands in full view of the street on Pittsburg street. The police were notified and while attempting to get the man he made his escape. Entrance had been gained through the cellar by forcing a door. The safe door was forced and diamonds and money that will reach $1,000 were taken. There were left in the store a crowbar, chisel, screw drivers and an assortment of other tools that would indicate that the thief was not a professional. The police are working on the case without a clue except the few scattered tools. It is thought that more than one man worked the job.

Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the office at the Broadway Planning mill was entered. Nothing of much value was taken. This was the third time recently that the office had been robbed. The other times large amounts of money were taken.

Get Rich Quick Scheme.

For women who are particular. Bendiner's is not a get-rich-quick organization. There is no get-rich-quick Wallingford on the Bendiner pay roll. We are in business for a clean record and not a clean-up. We have built this great institution on fine merchandise and low prices. We are sticking to the Bendiner policy of selling better clothes for less money. That's the day-in-and-day-out rule here—the principle that is bringing old friends to the New Bendiner store.

Incidentally, women are discovering that Bendiner merchandise is not only a few dollars lower in price but several notches higher in workmanship and something wholly different and better in style. Bendiner's Ladies' Store.

This Good Looking Young Woman Uses Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage With Finger Before Bedtime. All That Is Necessary.

The old time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms. Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream. There is no secret about it; it is just common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream, gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. HELPED PERRY WIN VICTORY

Peter Tarr Made the Cannon Balls That Served So Well in the Fight on Lake Erie.

When Commodore Perry defeated the British on Lake Erie, his gunners turned the trick largely with homemade cannon balls, although at the time of the engagement the place where the deadly missiles were made was a closely guarded secret.

Accidental discovery a few days ago of a small antiquated iron furnace near Steubenville, however, reveals the secret and adds a new chapter to the historical sketches of Perry's victory. The furnace was found by men engaged in erecting funnels for a large West Virginia steel company on the Tarr farm in Hancock county, West Virginia, directly across the river from Steubenville. It is said to have been the first iron furnace in use this side of the Allegheny mountains, and to have been built by Peter Tarr, one of the earliest settlers along the eastern banks of the Ohio river.

Old records in Hancock county show that Peter Tarr worked day and night at his secret task of making cannon balls from ore deposits found in the hillsides about the furnace, and that he sent them overland on mules to Commodore Perry's forces hiding near Put-in-Bay and Kelley's Island, awaiting an opportune time to strike the decisive blow at the British naval forces.

WILL REVIVE PAST GLORIES

Historic Port of Gloucester Likely to Come Back With the American Merchant Marine.

The historic port of Gloucester, Mass., is likely to be restored to its one-time maritime glory as the American merchant marine expands. A bulletin of the National Geographic society calls Gloucester the mother of American fisheries. The story of Gloucester's fisher folk is touched on by Kipling in his "Captains Courageous," James B. Connolly, and Mrs. Ward, in "Old Maid's Paradise." Norman's Woe, off Gloucester, is the scene of numerous deep sea tragedies touched on by Longfellow in his "Wreck of the Hesperus."

Schooners are said to have originated in Gloucester and to have been so named by a Gloucester shipwright who, when he launched a vessel, heard a spectator exclaim: "Oh, how she scoons." The expression was used to describe the bounding of a pellicle thrown aside into the water.

Gloucester has a floral curiosity of great beauty and fragrance, the magnolia glaucus, which grows in the swamps near the city. Among the natural wonders that Gloucester discloses are Rafe's chasm, where the pounding waves churn and rumble; the rocking stone, oscillated for an inch or so by the incoming tides; "Old Mother Ann" and "Whale's Jaw."

Painless Dentistry.

"An American at home, with or without toothache, is not much affected by the sign, 'Painless Dentistry,' but at sight of it in a foreign land he thrills pleasantly," a traveler said. "Its lure is not professional. Every tooth in his head may be perfectly sound, yet if stranded and homeless he welcomes that sign because all over Europe it is a sure indication that somewhere in the neighborhood lives a citizen of the United States. From the northernmost town of Norway and Sweden to the boundaries of Sibiria the words 'painless dentistry' are likely to hit you in the eye at the most unexpected turning. Usually they are followed or preceded by 'American,' but that qualifying term is entirely unnecessary. Dentists of other countries make no pretense of performing painless dentistry, or if they do they do not advertise their skill. They leave that for their American rivals."

Cold!—Sure.

On one of our most recent cold Saturdays the tenderfoot rank boy scouts of Terre Haute made an all-day hike along the Wabash. They were describing the hike for the benefit of some of their most interested friends. They had described the city bluffs from the river, the frozen ground and the various sensations produced on their spinal columns without winning what they regarded sufficient sympathy from their listeners. Just as they were most disappointed their executive took part. "Why it was so cold that we had to break the ice off the pancake batter between trying cakes," he ejaculated.

And then the audience was moved to speech.—Indianapolis News.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine"—Don't delay—use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Profit by the experience of Mrs. Henry Dixon, 118 S. 3rd St. She says: "Whenever I have had need for a kidney medicine, it was Doan's Kidney Pills I used. At times in the past, I have suffered from pains across my kidneys and sharp catches in my back, when I stooped over. My kidneys would act irregularly, annoying me and I would feel weak and tired and very much run down. An attack of this sort was very much benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. One box from Deighley's Drug Store would always remove the symptoms very quickly."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Dixon had. Foster-McBum Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Cut This Out and Take It With You.

A man often forgets the exact name of the article he wishes to purchase, and as a last resort takes something else instead. That is always disappointing and unsatisfactory. The safe way is to cut this out and take it with you so as to make sure of getting Chamberlain's Tablets. You will find nothing quite so satisfactory for constipation and indigestion.—Adv.

Many Measles Cases.
At the board of health meeting last evening Health Officer John Miller reported 87 cases of measles, four of whom were cough and three of chicken-pox during the last month.

Council in Session.
At the regular monthly meeting of council last evening it was decided to pay Robert Gill $12 per day for his work as borough engineer. All bills were ordered paid except those of the Mount Pleasant Creamery for coal, which will not be paid until the company repairs the sidewalk broken by the truck. The Bell Telephone company was given permission to set a pole at College avenue under the supervision of the street committee. The burgess' report showing receipts of $133 was accepted and placed on file. F. K. Painter was elected secretary for the Stroudsburg trip and B. B. Goldsmith treasurer.

On request of N. M. Crusan of the Mount Pleasant Sunday School board, it was decided that council would set aside a street and that there would be officers to protect the cars of persons coming to the Sunday school convention here September 16 and 17. Council also decided that it had no objections to the trees being removed from in front of the Slavish church but does not feel that the borough should move them.

Says corns stop hurting, then lift right off without one bit of pain

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus without even one little twinge of pain.

You simply apply a few drops of this Freezone on a tender, aching corn and the soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, with your fingers.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.—Adv.

RAY PRYEL AND ALLENTOWN DUNDEE SIGN FOR BOUT 18TH

Will Be Staged at the West End Theatre in Uniontown.

FIRST IN THREE YEARS

One of the most important boxing matches, arranged to ally in a number of years was consummated yesterday by the signing of Ray Pryel of Homestead and Allentown Dundee of Allentown for 18 rounds, on the night of June 18 Friday week at Uniontown.

Considerable dicker up with a number of boys to meet Dundee was the result of the coming mixup. Overtures to get Tony Zil of Youngstown Johnny Ray of Pittsburgh and others who when word they were wanted to meet Dundee, passed up the issue evidently knowing too well that Dundee is one of the toughest in the business for them to handle. The Allentown mixer has the reputation of being the busiest over now before the public as he is in demand by every matchmaker in the game.

This will not be the first encounter for Dundee and Pryel. The boys met last winter in Homestead and the scrap they put up was one that will not be forgotten in a hurry. They battled 10 hard rounds to a draw in that bout. Pryel has been coming along fine in his recent bouts. Saturday night in Jeannette he won over Barney Conway of Johnstown in a 10 style. Pryel is rated the best box of his weight in Western Pennsylvania. This will be the first bout that has taken place in Uniontown in three years, the last being that between Greb and Mantell. Johnny Dundee is a box in private life known as John Bell, one of the most popular boxers ever turned out in that section will be seen in the semi final bout.

Johnny's opponent has not been secured yet but he is ready to meet the best box obtainable. Freddy Garrow another Uniontown mixer will also be on the card. The opening bout will feature Al Mullen of Trotter. The matchmaker is after Johnny Polack, the Dawson feather weight to meet the lightest of the fighting Mullen clan. The bouts will take place in the West End theatre.

BASEBALL

The Baltimore and Ohio team took on Captain Glass in a twilight practice game yesterday and defeated the glass workers by the score of 8-1. This was a good workout for the railroaders as they go to Somerset today to play the team of that place. Beckel and Adams shared the pitching honors. Beckel will be on the mound today. The heavy work in the box will be done by "Beck" through the withdrawal of Charles Lohr from the lineup.

The selection of the Muncie Firemen as the opponents for the Independence in next Saturday's game has been commented upon by all close followers of baseball. The goings of the fire laddies on the diamond has taken the local fan fancy. The brand of ball that the Muncie team displays is worth traveling distance to see.

The Independents will probably feature the American Cham team as their attraction in two games July 5. After a long lay off from the diamond Trotter goes into play tomorrow. The boys across the river go to Leavenworth in 2 in their first game of the 11 that were arranged by Association Manager Burk.

George Wagner was the Independent to try and arrange an exhibition game with the New York Americans when the Yankees come on to Pittsburgh to play the Pirates their exhibition game as he is anxious to see Jack Quinn work against the local champions.

Ohiopyle.

OHIOPIYLE June.—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moon of Pittsburgh are the guests of relatives here for a few days. Mrs. Charles W. Miller returned to her home at Youngstown Saturday after a week spent here. DIAMOND NOTES

Bernie Neis looks and acts a lot like Benny Kauff.

Hughy Jennings is to retire at the end of this year.

George Whitford seems to play third base about as good as anybody.

Pete Adams first baseman, finally decided to report to Little Rock.

The New Jersey legislature has passed a bill permitting Sunday baseball.

Uncle Robbie's pitching staff continues to look like the best in the league.

An encouraging part of the Cubs' batting has been the work of Dode Paskert.

Next thing Charley Ebbetts knows his workmen will strike for a nine inning game.

Some of the alleged fence busters are rather slow in getting their war clubs in action.

Le Bourgeois of the Phillies is one of the most promising stars of the baseball season.

The only things the Giants are hitting these days are the smooth spots on the toboggan.

Claude Williams of the V's has stepped right along since the American league race started.

Some day Ruth will try to punt and the opposing players will be frozen stiff in their tracks with surprise.

Baseball makes a big hit with the Japanese fans who go to the Polo grounds in large numbers this season.

Helene Zimmerman is playing with a semipro team in the Bronx. He has given up hope of returning to McGraw.

"Buck" Freeman former White Sox pitcher has been signed by the Saginaw club in the Michigan Ontario league.

Jack Dunn of Baltimore has raided the colleges again and secured an infielder named Mariette from Guilford college.

A good team may get down to the bottom of the percentage column through bad luck but it is hard to keep it there.

Austin McHenry of the Cardinals has been featuring games this season with great throws that have slipped base runners.

With the Braves and the Red Sox out of the race, Boston fans might take some interest in Harvard's swimming team.

Ty Cobb Entering Fourteenth Year in Baseball as Fit and Determined as Ever

The name Ty Cobb needs no introduction to any public for years it has been a name to conjure with both for the boy in the street and the worshipping fan wailing in the crowd and heat of the bleachers. Ever since his introduction to baseball in 1906 this man has been hailed as the "wizard of the diamond" and the record of his base stealing feats and all around work on the diamond testifies to the fitness of the title.

He is now entering his fourteenth year of baseball as fit and determined as ever to uphold his remarkable record despite the physical blows of the envious and unsportsmanlike rooters that have been directed toward him in the past.

All hail to the Georgia Peach!

ANSON MADE RECORDS

There are two major league records which have stood for a long number of years and give evidence of something on the books for several more. Both were made by A. G. Anson for former manager captain and first baseman of the Chicago National. Anson played 21 straight years with the Chicago team the longest period of time that any player has ever been with the same club in a playing capacity and he also managed the team for 19 years a other record.

what will they do when their star slugger Eddie Roush, starts hitting the home runs?

Lefty O'Dewald Hudson Wis high school pitcher will report to the Cleveland Americans at the close of his school year in June.

Pitcher Frank Graham who jumped the Louisville Colonels last season has come into camp again and means to be good this year.

Nick Altrock of the Washington Nationals is in shape to play but they don't need him in the lineup yet. The game looks "mushy" enough as it is.

Toe Letter the recruit outfielder twice tried by the Cubs on spring training trips and found wanting has been released to the Kansas City Blues.

Al Patt, outfielder and Peter Manning pitcher have been sold to the Omaha club of the Western league by the Kansas City American Association club.

A few of the baseball wiseacres have been saying that Walter Johnson is through as a pitcher. Some of the games he has pitched lately would indicate that he has not started as yet.

Charley Deal takes things so easy no matter how hard the chance it looks as though he never makes any difficult fielding plays.

Pittsburgh is supposed to be the deal horse in the National league race. Quite a natural. Look at the town they come from.

Connie Mack is described as deeply thoughtful but not disconcerted. His managers have not it is admitted come as fast as he hoped for.

Otto Koenig, second baseman of the Moine Trolley league can hit quit organize ball and joined an independent crew in Sterling Neb.

Bill Hinchman and Manager Gibson occupy the spotlight when the Pirates sit at bat. They sustain themselves at first and third base respectively.

The veteran Neal Ball will play with the New Haven Eastern league team this season and act as assistant and head captain for Manager Chief Bender.

PLAYERS PAY FOR GRUB

Prior to 1882 the players were assessed 50 cents a day for board while on the road and that came pretty close to paying for the food they got. Imagine a big league of today digging into his pocketbook for the cost of the meals he consumes today—about a dollar and a half for a little ham and eggs in the morning and two or three dollars for a piece of beef in the dinner season.

Why a bowl of noodle soup costs 50 cents a row.

Smithfield.

SMITHFIELD, June 8.—The funeral of James C. Huhn took place from the residence of his son, Charles Huhn, Sunday at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. All his children and his brothers and sister attended the funeral, except his son, Dr. Lloyd Huhn of Chicago. Rev. Morris R. Hackman of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member, preached the funeral. Jerry Jones, Post, G. A. R., conducted the services at the cemetery as per ritual of the G. A. R. R. S. Burial, B. F. Black, C. D. Crow, G. A. Feather, O. Shaw and S. H. Miller were pallbearers. After the services at the cemetery the relatives returned to the home of Charles Huhn where in their presence the will was read. The deceased made his will in August, 1918, a few days before having to enter the soldiers' home. The will was short and specific, only naming his children by his first wife as beneficiaries. They are John H. Huhn, Gideon C. Huhn, George Huhn, and Emma Huhn, to whom he left $500 each in money. Less $100 he had advanced to John H. and $50 to Gideon Huhn. His realty, consisting of a farm in Nicholson township and a house and lot in Smithfield he had previously bequeathed to his second wife. To this union was born five sons, all surviving except James. The second wife died intestate and her children will inherit the real estate and any personal property of which she was possessed. The deceased named W. S. Leach executor of his will, who with H. O'Neil, witnessed it. Gallatin Lodge No. 517, I. O. O. F., and the D. of R. I. O. O. F., will hold memorial services and decorate the graves of deceased members, Sunday, June 13, at which time Rev. Morris R. Hackman will address them in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Mrs. H. O'Neil is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Campbell and other relatives in Point Marion for a few days. W. S. Leach and H. O'Neil were transacting business in the county seat Monday. About half a hundred Mexicans arrived here last week. They will be employed on track work on the F. M. & P. A. squad of them taking in the town Sunday created considerable speculation among the citizens of Smithfield on the bill as their nationality, the majority of the residents mistaking them for Africans. Send for Bargains? Read our advertising columns and you will find them. A Sure Cure for your Wants is the use of our classified column. Try it. Classified Advertisements Bring results. Cost only 10 a word.

The Man Who Wasn't Himself

By
ROBERT AMES BENNET

(Copyright, by W. G. Chapman)

"I—say, I—" he stammered, his face flushing crimson. He started to grasp the girl's shoulders, hesitated, and looked appealingly at Doctor Kirkland. "Good heavens! This—she does not realize! You must at once—I beg you."

The girl flung back her head to beam up into his perturbed face. "Oh, Will!" she exclaimed. "So that's it! You've an English accent, and you're learned horrid English manners at the same time. You're ashamed to hug me before Tillie and Doctor. You old silly!"

She released her embrace, but it was only to clasp her arms around his neck and hold him fast while she reached up on tiptoe to kiss him. At the touch of her lips his flush deepened and he sought to thrust her away from him. His expression was a peculiar mixture of pleasure and shame.

"Doctor Kirkland," he begged, "you see that unless I use force—"

"You know I am not her brother!"

"Not Will!" cried the girl, and she burst into a merry laugh. "Just listen to that, Tillie. He says he's not Will. I'll show him." Again she stood on tiptoe and kissed him with joyous tenderness. "There, sir, take that! Now do you dare say you're not my brother?"

He had not tried very hard to avoid the caress, but a moment after it he draw her arms from about his neck and pushed her away with sudden determination.

"I do not know what Mrs. Kirkland told you," he said. "The truth is that I am not your brother, and I—"

"Will!"

"Just try to imagine what it means to me coming here, an absolute stranger—"

"Oh, dear! Then it's true. You're not yourself. You're completely forgotten us all—ever no!"

"I have forgotten nobody whom I know. I am Richard Clinton, and I must say this—"

He stopped, gazed into Amy's eyes, and changed his tone. "However, if you wish me to stay, I believe I will."

The girl smiled with quick recovered confidence. "You will stay? Then of course it's all right."

"I told Miss Kirkland I would not stay. But now—"

"Ellen," she corrected. "Say Ellen."

"Can you not understand, Miss Lowrie?" he said. "I have only become acquainted with Miss Kirkland this evening. I am not your brother. I am—"

"O—ah!" she reproached.

"I am Richard Clinton. So you see how wrong it would be to let you to act as if I were your brother."

She peered her eyebrows at the closely observed physician. "Isn't it horrid of him?" she pouted. "How long will it take to cure him?"

A telephone bell rang somewhere back of the hall. Doctor Kirkland watched Tillie go out to answer the call before he replied to the question. "How long will it take? He probably can bring on his profits in a few days."

"Proofs! But that's no answer. I asked—"

"Yes, yes, sweetheart, I know. You see until he—h'm—I wonder if we could not agree on a compromise. Suppose we have an understanding that until Mr. Clinton—"

"Clinton?"

"Mr. Clinton produces his proofs we are all to act as if he really is your brother."

"I could not do it, either in justice to this young lady or to you and your family, sir."

"Of all the obstinate pigs!" cried Amy. "You ought to know you're your own, and yet you won't even pretend!"

"Is that quite fair, Miss Lowrie?" he asked. "How can I pretend to be your brother, when I know I am not?"

"How can we pretend you're not when we know you are?" she rejoined.

Tillie poked her head in past the parlor door. "Doctor," she called.

"Miss Kirkland says to tell you

TROUBLES FROM MY AGE

Mrs. Baney tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her Through the Change of Middle Life.

Rochester, Ind.—"My troubles were from my age and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully. I took doctor's medicine and all other patent medicine but the Vegetable Compound has helped my nerves more than anything I have ever taken. I am thankful to the one who recommended it to me and will surely do my part in telling others what the medicine has done for me."

—Mrs. LEVINA BANER, 465 East 9th St., Rochester, Indiana.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women and let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carry them safely through this crisis as it did Mrs. Baney.

you're wanted at once at the same, and shall they come on down now?"

"Yes, yes," said the physician. As the woman disappeared, he stepped to the front door. "Must go at once, Amy. Be back again. Meantime, they're coming."

"Doctor—wait! I—" exclaimed Clinton.

But the physician rushed off unheeding; and the young man could not very well run after him with a determined young lady clinging to the tail of his coat.

The captive passed in the doorway and looked over his shoulder at the girl. She took a fresh grip on his coat and braced one little slippered foot against the door casing.

"Shall I have to call Tillie to help?" she inquired.

"No," he answered.

She led him unresisting into the simply furnished room that opened off the hall.

He smiled quizzically and seated himself in the big leather chair to which she led him.

"You see, all you need is gentle persuasion," she remarked as she cuddled down before him with her arm on his knee. "Now we're comfy, and you look quite yourself."

"Do I?"

"Yes. So I want to ask your brotherly advice—not that I expect to take it. Charlie is coming tonight, and he is coming to the point—if I let him. Shall I?"

"What?" queried the young man who persisted in calling himself Richard Clinton.

"Oh, Will!" exclaimed the girl. "You do remember? You remember that you did not want me to encourage him."

"No, I do not remember. I cannot even pretend—"

He stopped and sat gazing fixedly at her animated face.

"Cannot what?" she asked.

"Pretend to remember, when I am not."

Suddenly his face became resolute. "Just the same, I do not wish you to encourage that fellow."

"Meaning I'm not the best dressed man about town?"

He frowned. "You insist that I must speak as a brother?"

"Of course."

"Very well, then. I should say that he is too much of a—"

Clinton hesitated. "Really, Miss Amy, I cannot say anything. It would not be honorable, when you would be taking my opinion as that of your brother."

"Botheration! Even if you don't remember you're Will, I want you to make believe you do."

A bell rang in the rear of the house. The young man looked toward the hall with an expression of relief not untinged with regret.

"Is that a caller?" he asked. "Had you not better take a chair?"

"Not unless you promise to be yourself."

"I promise," he readily responded.

She sprang up and danced around his chair with the gleefulness of a child. Tillie thrust her gray head in at the hall doorway and announced mysteriously: "Here's Missus Kirkland and Miss Ellen and Mister Benam."

As the callers entered, their animated faces belied the sedateness of their movements.

"Amy, my dear!" Mrs. Kirkland called out. "You're dancing—he looks so at home! Can it be possible that he—?"

"Yes, yes! He's promised to be himself! Isn't it grand?" cried the girl. She whirled about to grasp Clinton's arm as he rose. "Hurry out into the hall with Ellen and tell her—hurry!"

Ellen clasped her hands. "Will!" she murmured. "Do you really remember? Have you come to yourself?"

"Ah, yes, that's the question," added Benam. "Out with it, old man. Own up, now; you've been ragging us all along."

"Pretending? Will pretending?" protested Ellen. "I cannot believe it."

Clinton straightened. "I wish to inform Mr. Benam that throughout this peculiar affair of mistaken identity I have insisted that I am myself, Richard Clinton. All of you think I am Mr. Lowrie. I know that I am not. If I stay here while you are under such a misapprehension, you will have the right to consider me an impostor when you learn the truth. I shall go to some hotel and remain there until I have sent on and received the proofs of my identity."

"Go to a hotel?" remonstrated Amy. "Why, you dear old silly, you know everywhere. If you register under this stage name, they'll send for the insane asylum doctors."

"They might, indeed," confirmed Mrs. Kirkland.

Stately Wedding Gown

BEAUTIFUL June is to see more bridal processions than ever helped to make it glorious before, at least so say those who are making trousseaux. There were a good many weddings at Easter time and June brides are profiting by them—for they revealed more latitude in the styles adopted for wedding dresses than was expected, including many extreme departures from the conventional high neck and long sleeve. But heavy white satin remains unchanged as the best of materials for the stately regulation wedding gown, and brides selected it, even when they rejected the conventional in style. There is something so beautiful in the sheen of satin under the bridal veil that nothing will take its place.

It is said that the Americans and the English showed more independence in adopting short-sleeved modes than the French, as they do in the matter of bridesmaids' dresses and hats. The advocate of long sleeves and high neck, of lace or not or other airy material, has the best authorities back of her, and cannot go wrong in following this mode, but fashion not only tolerates others, she encourages them, and the June bride may make her own choice.

Nearly all satin dresses are draped, many of them made up in combination with lace or lace trimmed. The draping is not intricate or the trimming lavish, and the result is the gown is beautiful. Like the example of the designers' conception of this year's wedding gown, shown in the picture. If one is willing to concede the short sleeves and low neck, there is nothing about it that could be improved upon.

The pretty cap, with its very scant trail across the front, is made of fine duchesse lace and has a long wreath of small orange buds that trail over it and fall in a slender spray at each side. The rulle veil is posed on the cap with the short end at the right side and the remainder falling to the end of the train. Little of the valley, with three or four white orchids among them, make the bouquet.

AID GIRLS WHO FLOCK TO

Travelers' Society Agent Tells of Tremendous Wanderlust.

MANY SEEKING MOVIE JOBS

People Get Up and Move Whenever the Idea Appeals to Them, Journey
as Far as Their Money Will Take Them and Depend on Some Friendly Circumstance to Tide Them Over.

Ever since the war the world has been in the grip of a tremendous wanderlust. People do not seem to be able to settle down. The emigration of families from the West to the East has increased to such proportions as actually to frighten some western states. Even on the eastern coast, which is attracting so many newcomers, the population keeps shifting about in a most irresponsible and restless way, says Frederick J. Harkin in the Chicago News.

Much of this travel is without plan, and may almost be said to be unmediated. People just get up and move whenever the idea appeals to them, journeying as far as their money will take them, and then depending upon a job or some friendly circumstance to tide them over until the next impulse seizes them.

At least this is the way it looks to the Travelers' Aid society of New York city, which has had to rush to the aid of $8,000 such irresponsible travelers during the last year. This is about twice as many as required assistance last year.

War Started Stay-at-Homes.

"I don't know that a general discontent is responsible for it," said a Travelers' Aid woman interviewed at the headquarters of the society at 435 Lexington avenue, New York, the other day. "It's more a general 'leave-the-edges' feeling, as they call it, which has become a desperate attempt to define the exact cause of so much unprecedented travel. 'You see, the war uprooted a large number of people and planted them in new environments. Young women who had always lived with their parents in small towns went to distant cities to do war work, and young men, who had never been away from their home villages, were whisked from one point to another, both in this country and in Europe. They just develop the habit of moving every so often.'

Because many are better able to take care of themselves when suddenly stranded in a big city the work of the Travelers' Aid society is confined largely to the rescue of venturesome young women. This is one of New York's greatest problems—the fact that it attracts thousands of young girls who have become disoriented in their homes and who hope to find growing room for their cramped personalities in the city. The latest statistics regarding these wanderers are worth mentioning. Sixty-eight thousand of them were reported to the authorities as "missing" during the last year, of whom 1,000 completely disappeared in New York alone.

Keep Eye on Ambitious Women.

So the Travelers' Aid society is kept busy housing those ambitious but irresponsible young women, seeing that they get into the proper sort of lodgings and employment bureaus. A Travelers' Aid woman ever incoming train and every incoming boat to New York, and with an experienced eye picks the runaways out of the crowd. "After handling so many of them," one of the aids explained, "you get to know them by their expressions." Many of them arrive placidly supplied with money, which increases the danger they run from a class of persons which is said to exist entirely from the exploitation of these ignorant young adventurers. The money, it usually turns out, represents the family savings to which the traveler has liberally helped herself before leaving home.

It is estimated that at least 75 per cent of the number who fall into the friendly hands of the Travelers' Aid society are attracted by the desire to go into the movies. In each instance the T. A. managers to look immensely interested and to address the young woman thus: "All right, if you want to go in the movies the best thing for you to do is to make a tour of the movie agencies, and I'll go with you." At the end of the second or third day usually an exhausted and sadly disillusioned heroine falls happily on the neck of a forgiving parent, who has suddenly arrived on the scene at the psychological moment through the strategic duplicity of the T. A.

"Happy Endings" in Real Life.

In fact, the T. A. are as tireless and vigilant in creating happy endings as most of our American novelists. And, as one of them remarked the other morning, "It is great sport." Sometimes it is also extremely difficult, as, for instance, in the really tragic cases of young women who come to New York lured by matrimonial hopes scattered carelessly abroad by some obscure matrimonial agency. The other day, for example, one of the aids stopped a pretty little blonde girl as she walked in a rattle bewilderment through the Pennsylvania station here. Pointing to the society's badge on the lapel of her coat, she asked if she could be of any assistance.

"If you would be so kind as to help me find this address," said the girl, handing the aid a letter.

The aid saw at a glance the letter was from one of the western matrimonial agencies on the society's blacklist. It offered the young lady a husband, located in a remote part of the Bronx.

"This is pretty far out," said the aid at length. "Wouldn't you like to come down to our club and have some lunch before you start out?"

At the luncheon table the aid heard the girl's story. It was the usual one. She had been working at a small town in New York and had decided matrimony was the wisest way to settle down. She was an investigator had time of the late photographs received of the French occupation of Frankfurt, Germany, showing a French soldier accompanying an American motion picture man, whose appearance excited the citizens.

been put on the trail of the Bronx address, and was a telephone message announcing the matrimonial prospect so gloriously described in the agency's letter was a negro jailor.

Some Picturesque Incidents.

Some of the most picturesque incidents in which the Travelers' Aid society figures occur at the docks, where the aids, speaking several foreign languages, are stationed. Recently romance has flourished and died all within a few minutes here, owing to the arrival of so many soldiers' fiancées. Some of the funniest reach this side only to find their prospective husbands flown, and they have to be taken under the hospitable wing of the society until they can go to work and earn the money to pay their passage back home. Still others think something may have happened to their betrothed and have hysterics when they catch sight of them waiting on the docks.

One such foreign fiancée, who arrived not long ago, was scheduled to marry a man in Washington a couple of days later. The guests were invited, the wedding presents were assembled, and even the caterer employed, but the girl refused to leave New York, explaining she had met a man she cared more for coming over on the ship, and she intended to marry him.

On the same day arrived a beautiful young English girl who had practically the same story to tell, only this time the T. A. who met her at the dock was an older, more experienced woman, and she decided to interfere. "He looks so different in civilian clothes," was all the young woman could say, as she clutched the T. A. wildly and sobbed on her shoulder.

Guessed Girl Was Tired.

"The young man was as nice as he could be about it," declared the T. A. in telling the story. "He said he guessed she was a little tired and frightened. I took her up to our dormitory with me, and during the evening I learned there was another man in her case, too. I told her to think things over carefully before she made her choice. Between us the young man and I have got her visiting his mother, so I hope it will come out all right."

With all these delicate romances on its hands it is not surprising that the Travelers' Aid society asserts it could turn into a matrimonial agency if it ever felt so disposed.

NEGROES WANT BOOZE

Open Trunk and Discard $80,000

Worth of Jewelry.

In a patch of woods two miles from Raleigh, N. C., four negro culprits cautiously opened a trunk. All they found in it was about $50,000 worth of jewelry. So they ran away and left it.

John Cook, a bellboy in the Hotel Marlborough, told the story to the police after a three hours' grilling. He knew traveling salesmen often bring liquor to their customers in the south, and he thought a trunk belonging to A. J. Goode, a New York billiardist, and a traveling jewelry salesman, held whiskey. Two other boys and a chauffeur helped him get the trunk, for which the police had been searching for three days. None of the gems was missing.

Daddy's Status.

Barbara and Helen were spending Christmas day thoroughly enjoying the gifts Santa had left for them. Barbara, the older sister, had spent the previous summer in the country, where her father, a doctor, had thought it advisable to have her. Helen showed herself partial to a big toy horse, upon whom she had contemplated bestowing a name, when she turned to her sister with the remark: "I wonder is this a girl horse or a boy horse?"

With an indifferent shrug of the shoulders Barbara said: "I don't know."

Helen's rejoinder came promptly: "You ought to know; you were in the country long enough last summer."

Just then the children's father came into the room, and Barbara suggested they "ask daddy."

To this Helen laughingly replied: "He ain't no horse doctor; he's a person doctor."

At Rehearsal.

"What did the authors chorus, pray?" For there was quite a hitch. The manager replied: "Why, sir, 'The talk can't get the alibi!'"

This Tells You How to Get Benefit of the Best Senna

Finest Grade of Egyptian Senna Leaves used in compounding Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

PROMINENT importers and wholesale dealers in crude drugs and medicinal herbs gathered from all parts of the world do not hesitate to say that the market for the better grades of medicinal herbs, roots, oils, etc., is practically confined to the leading manufacturers of the so-called package medicines, who buy only the very best, and that the manufacturers of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are the largest users of the best grade of Egyptian senna leaves in the world.

The potency of a tea brewed from senna leaves to relieve constipation has long been recognized, not only by the medical profession, but by the public generally; in fact, senna has been known and used in medicine for more than five centuries. The cheaper grades of senna, such as are usually sold at retail, have, however, a tendency to grip and cramp which makes their use unpopular with most people.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the finest Egyptian senna is combined with pepsin and other valuable agents, essential oils and pure cane sugar syrup to make an exceptionally valuable tonic-laxative for the relief of constipation and resulting disturbances of the stomach and bowels. The complete formula is plainly printed in English, French, and Spanish on every package. Thousands who formerly bought an inferior grade of senna leaves now use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin instead. It is sold in drug stores everywhere.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

The chief part of the story concerns the life of Alden Van Dusen, who represents the third generation. Henry Kolker, who made this picture in the Brentwood studios, chose many backgrounds. One of the most beautiful mountain resorts in the country was one location, a famous beach was another, while other scenes shown are fashionable New York streets, and the Metropolitan opera house.

"ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE"—A vivid entertainment screened from the celebrated stage play by Paul Armstrong, is an interesting attraction today.

The photoplay starts with Jimmy Valentine a prisoner in Sing Sing on a charge of burglary, who has earned the enmity of the warden there by his refusal to acknowledge that he can open safes without burglar's tools, and because, too, Jimmy has always "played the gentleman." Immediately upon the prisoner's release, which is effected through influence brought about by a girl's interest, in him, the young and, as the newspapers would put it, alleged crackman finds himself dogged by Detective Doyle, who threatens to bring fresh evidence against Jimmy unless he gives a clue to the whereabouts of a pal of his, Jimmy refuses and, being offered a chance to make a fresh start in another and distant city, eludes the plainclothes man. What follows after, this forms one of the most engrossing stories of the underworld and love and mental quickness ever conceived.
